

NEW DISTRICT MANAGER MIDWEST CENTRAL TERRITORY

Effective March 25, 2013, Mark Mirchevich has joined Jason Industrial as District Sales Manager for the Midwest Central Territory.

A graduate of College of DuPage with an Associate's Degree in Business Management & Marketing, and having studied Electrical Theory at Coyne Institute, Mark has over 20 years of industrial sales experience, most recently with MBL-USA, serving customers in nine midwestern states.

Mark resides in the western Chicago suburb of Aurora with his wife Nicole and their 2-1/2-month-old daughter, Brooke. He loves golfing, fishing, competitive skeet and trap shooting, traveling and spending time with his family in outdoor activities.

Recently completing product, system and procedural training at our Distribution Center in Carol Stream, Illinois, he will serve Jason customers in the Chicagoland/Midwest territory, including Illinois, northern Indiana and eastern Iowa.

With his background, Mark is a welcome addition to our sales team.

Please join me in welcoming Mark to Jason Industrial!
