

JASON ILLINOIS WELCOMES NEW CUSTOMER SERVICE REPRESENTATIVE

Kevin Lamb has joined Jason Industrial's Carol Stream location as a Customer Service Representative. Along with that position, he will also play significant roles in supporting the Illinois-based diversified (appliance and agricultural) markets, as well as within the conveyor belting product and fabrication venture.

Following in his father Dave Lamb's footsteps, Kevin comes to Jason with an impressive technical and sales background with Rogers Pump Sales & Service, as well as financial services experience with Hoopis Financial Group (Mass Mutual).

He holds a Bachelor of Science degree in Economics from Northern Illinois University and is a United States Army veteran, having served as an Infantry Soldier and Reconnaissance Team Leader for the 4th Infantry Division (The Ivy Division) in both Iraq and Afghanistan during Operation Enduring Freedom. For his exemplary service and bravery, he was awarded highly distinguished military honors, including the Combat Infantry Badge, Iraq and Afghanistan Campaign Medals, 4th Infantry Division Soldier of the Month and twice awarded the Army Commendation Medal with Valor.

An avid golfer, sports fan and health advocate, Kevin lives in the western Chicago suburb of Elburn.

His sales and technical experience, along with his exceptional leadership skills, make him a highly valued addition to our team.

Please join me in welcoming Kevin to the Jason family!
