

NEW DISTRICT MANAGER MIDWEST REGION

Effective October 15, 2012, Mike Hambleton has joined Jason Industrial as District Sales Manager for the Midwest Region.

A graduate of Mankato State University, Mike has been in industrial sales for the past 26 years, most recently with Kanaflex Corporation where he sold industrial hose and built solid customer relationships in the midwestern states and Central Canadian territories.

Mike resides in Andover, Minnesota with his wife, Debbie, and three children, and will cover the territory of Minnesota, Wisconsin, North Dakota and South Dakota.

Recently completing product, system and procedural training at our Distribution Center in Carol Stream, Illinois, Mike comes to Jason as someone who is quite familiar with many of our existing customers. With his background, as well as the extremely positive customer response we have received so far, Mike is a welcome addition to our sales team.

Please join me in welcoming Mike to Jason Industrial!
