

Kaman Industrial Technologies

KAMAN

Starting this afternoon Monday April 11, 2011, we'll be accepting all orders from Kaman electronically. As you all know we're already connected to Kaman using their DVAT system which allows the branches to view our inventory levels as well as placing real time orders.

We are now going system to system for all orders placed with us using traditional EDI trading partner logic. Kaman branches can now launch an order to us from their Purchase Order system directly.

Once this phase is up and running will be sending back all of our invoices to Kaman electronically as well, again using traditional EDI trading partner logic. This is another major step for us here at Jason Industrial Inc.!

This is the announcement that's going out to all of the Kaman branches this afternoon!

Subject: Jason Industrial is now live on the OEM "Close and send EDI" ordering process.
